

Insurance Companies on File with FWC
Wildlife Exhibits

FWC staff contacted several insurance companies via phone to obtain information on insurance availability.

The industry standard for insurance coverage is a 1 million dollar policy with 1 million per occurrence. The requirement of a 2 million dollar policy with 2 million per occurrence will generally necessitate an additional umbrella policy. Costs vary depending upon exposure/liability assessment. Costs generally start at $2,500 - $3,000, per 1 million dollar in coverage. Based on the information obtained the cost of a 2 million dollar insurance policy with 2 million per occurrence may start at $5,000 - $6,000. Coverage may be based on a variety of factors such as client, type of exposure, number of employees, experience, animals being handled, and safe guards being used.

FWC staff requested input from current licensees during the rule development process on proposed methods for meeting a financial responsibility guarantee. Twenty licensees indicated that the preferred method for meeting the financial responsibility guarantee was insurance. These licensees provided current Certificates of Insurance with their response. These Certificates of Insurance were provided by the following insurance companies:
