

9/16/08 - Researchers captured and attached transmitters to 48 female mottled ducks in the Everglades Agriculture Area (EAA). Plans are underway to capture additional birds in urban/suburban habitats this fall.

FWC waterfowl biologist Andrew Fanning releases a mottled duck in the EAA.